Join the UI Honors Program in making graduation a more sustainable and accessible event!

Our gowns are 100% post consumer plastic (Go Vandals and Go Jostens!) but the step before recycle is REUSE and that's what this program aims to contribute.

Meet the Founder:

Hannah Daly started the program this year after realizing there were no sustainable or cost saving options available through the university when she went to purchase her own gown. She is graduating in landscape architecture and has been a part of the Honors Program since her freshman year.
