

Become a 2020-2021 CNR Student Ambassador

Key Roles and Responsibilities:

- CNR Student Ambassadors provide information at college and high school events such as career and job fairs, and other recruitment functions on and off campus at the University of Idaho
- Engage student groups with hands-on activities showcasing natural resources programs and professions
- Conduct tours of the College of Natural Resources building and facilities
- Participate in speaking engagements to represent the university, colleges, and its programs
- Meet individually with visiting students and families
- Assist with advising and registering incoming students (Udaho Bound events)
- Assist with CNR communications to prospective and admitted CNR students, including postcards, emails and phone calls.

Questions? Ready to Apply?:

Contact Mindy McAllister

mmcallister@uidaho.edu

208-885-6960

It is U of I policy to prohibit and eliminate discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation and gender identity/expression, age, disability, or status as a Vietnam-era veteran. This policy applies to all programs, services, and facilities, and includes, but is not limited to, applications, admissions, access to programs and services, and employment.

CNR Ambassador Mission

- Understand the needs of prospective students and their families and develop positive relationships while inspiring them to enroll
- Educate others about opportunities and programs at the University of Idaho and the College of Natural Resources
- Always be sincere, positive, dependable, knowledgeable, enthusiastic, and motivated
- Distinguish ourselves as leaders and professionals on campus and in the community through continuous learning, cooperative participation, and meaningful interactions.

Benefits

Being a CNR Student Ambassador is an honor and distinction, as only a small number of students are selected. This is a paid position (non-work study) and includes gear and a nametag.

Ambassadors have an unparalleled opportunity to develop resume-building communication and leadership skills, build their professional network, and make a difference in the CNR community.

University of Idaho
College of Natural Resources