Good of the Order:

- Dylanie Frazier
 - <https://www.idahoednews.org/legislature/legislative-roundup-2-9-21-new-higher-education-fee-opt-out-bill-introduced/>
 - Idaho House Bill 90 would allow students to opt out of certain fees that they do not want to support including the women's center, certain courses including philosophy, the multicultural groups on campus, and much more. If this bill passes, we will see similar things happening currently at BSU happening here with cancellation of classes, defunding for DEI courses, inaccurate portrayal of history, and much more. I encourage everyone in this room to go back to your chapter and discuss with others the importance of making sure this bill doesn't pass to make sure there are resources on our campus for all students. Please mail or call your Idaho state legislators to voice your opinion.
 - In our nation we are seeing current legislation that is harming those who identify as transgender, especially children. In Alabama and Arkansas, we are seeing that the goal of the legislation is to "protect" children from receiving medication that would help individuals be comfortable in their own bodies. There is a clear correlation when transgender children who do not have access to the medications, they need to be comfortable in their own body and the drastic rise of suicides in transgender teens. It is important for us as Panhellenic women to be able to support and protect all women. I am not here to have a debate on those who are transgender. A transgender woman is a woman and if you believe differently, I encourage you to educate yourself on the transgender population and how these state bills affect their lives, before making assumptions or statements that could cause great harm onto others.

 - Lastly, we have some amazing women running for ASUI positions, 10 Panhellenic women running for senate and 2 Panhellenic women running for president and vice president. There will be two more open forums for which candidates can discuss their plans and projects of elected. It will be on zoom and can get the link from ASUI's Instagram!
